What to see. Where to go.

Can you help me plan my trip?

Yes, we can! You can give us a call at 306-693-8097, or send an email to info@tourismmoosejaw.com and we will happily help you plan your next visit to our notorious little city!

Where does the name Moose Jaw come from?

There are many stories related to the origin of the name "Moose Jaw". It is believed to originate from two potential Indigenous Cree words "Mosocapiskan" or "Moscastani-sipiy". Indigenous scholar Arok Wolvengrey believes that Moscastani-sipiy is the original Cree name for the Moose Jaw River and surrounding area. This translates to "river of warm breezes, river of slighter winds". Moose Jaw likely comes from the phonetics of this word rather than translation.

Why is Moose Jaw "Canada's Most Notorious City"?

Moose Jaw's slogan is "Canada's Most Notorious City" because of our colorful and sometimes dark past, especially during the Prohibition era in the 1920s and 30s. Today, we embrace our "notorious" label with a wink, using it to tell engaging stories, run fun tours like the Tunnels of Moose Jaw Tours, and promote our city's one-of-a-kind history.

Why should I choose to travel to Moose Jaw, instead of other cities?

Moose Jaw is one of those places that surprises people – in the best possible way. It’s charming, historic, scenic, and packed with personality, setting it apart from other prairie cities. Known as Canada’s Most Notorious City, Moose Jaw has a colourful past rooted in prohibition-era stories of rum-running, secret tunnels, and legendary figures like Al Capone. You can dive into that history on a visit to the famous Tunnels of Moose Jaw, or hop on our vintage trolley for a guided tour full of local legends, ghost stories, and unexpected true crime.

Moose Jaw offers the kind of authentic, memorable experience you won’t find in bigger cities – and that’s exactly why people fall in love with it. Come curious, and leave surprised you hadn’t come sooner.

But there’s more to Moose Jaw than intrigue. We’re home to the Temple Gardens Hotel & Spa, where you can soak in natural geothermal waters year-round – a rare luxury in the heart of the prairies. Our downtown is walkable, vibrant, and lined with massive, hand-painted murals that turn every corner into a piece of public art. You’ll also find unique local shops, quaint cafés, and restaurants that range from classic comfort food to global cuisine.

Nature lovers will appreciate Wakamow Valley, a lush river park right in town that offers camping, canoeing, biking, and a peaceful escape from the everyday. And of course, no visit is complete without a selfie with Mac the Moose, the world’s largest moose statue and a local legend in his own right.

Sukanen Ship Pioneer Village and Museum – Stories From the Prairie Past

Just south of Moose Jaw, a visit to Sukanen Ship Pioneer Village and Museum offers something truly unexpected on the Prairies: a full-sized ocean-going ship, built by hand, far from any sea.

At the centre is the story of Tom Sukanen, who set out in the 1920s to build a ship on the Saskatchewan plains in hopes of returning home. Though the journey was never completed, the vessel remains as a lasting symbol of perseverance and determination.

Surrounding the ship, a pioneer village brings early Saskatchewan to life. Historic buildings, vintage farm equipment, and curated exhibits reflect the resilience and resourcefulness of those who settled here, offering a hands-on look at life on the Prairies.

Whether you're drawn by history or curiosity, or the annual threshing bee, it's a one-of-a-kind experience—and a reminder that remarkable stories can take shape in even the most unexpected places.

Protecting a Prairie Icon— The Burrowing Owl

The Burrowing Owl is a prairie icon that continues to face extreme hardships. Since the 1980's their range has shrunk by more than half and scientist have estimated that over 94% of Burrowing Owls have disappeared from the Canadian prairies.

The Burrowing Owl was officially listed as an endangered species in 1995. Historically Moose Jaw and the surrounding area were a hotspot for a local population of burrowing owls. In 1992 there were 39 pairs of owls nesting throughout the city, but by 2006 not a single nest remained.

The Saskatchewan Burrowing Owl Interpretive Centre (SBOIC) opened its doors to the public in 1997 with the mandate to promote the conservation of Burrowing Owls and their prairie habitat, through education, eco-tourism and stewardship. Our educational programs are provided year-round with in-house visits to the Centre from the May to the September long weekend as well as our "Owls on Tour" program. This is a traveling program that consists of a presentation, pictures, skits, and stories as well as the opportunity to meet one of our ambassador owls. Over the years SBOIC has also added a small parliament of burrowing owls, a Short-Eared Owl and several Richardson's ground squirrel to our permanent population to help highlight the unique and diverse wildlife found here on the Canadian Prairies.

SBOIC is the only facility of its kind in Saskatchewan, and as a non-profit organization we are dependant upon partnerships with industry, government and the public to help continue our work with the owls and to fulfill our education mandate.

If you would like to help support SBOIC, or want to learn more about our owls please check out our website at www.skburrowingowl.ca or stop by the Centre this summer for a visit!

invites exploration year-round. In the warmer months, it's a hub for swimming, kayaking, and paddleboarding, while anglers cast their lines in hopes of reeling in walleye or northern pike. Along the shoreline, sandy beaches and picnic areas provide the perfect setting for a relaxing day by the water.

Beyond the lake, a network of scenic trails winds through grasslands and wooded areas, offering opportunities for hiking, cycling, and wildlife viewing, including dedicated mountain biking trails for those looking for a bit more adventure. One of the park's most unique features is its herd of plains bison, a powerful symbol of the prairie landscape. Visitors may spot these iconic animals grazing in designated areas, offering a rare chance to witness a species that once roamed the region in vast numbers.

When winter arrives, the park transforms into a snowy playground. Visitors can enjoy cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, and sledding, making it a year-round destination for outdoor recreation and fresh prairie air.

For those looking to extend their stay, Buffalo Pound Provincial Park offers well-equipped campgrounds, cozy cabins, and year-round accommodations—making it easy to turn a day trip into a weekend getaway. Canada's Snowbirds – A Moose Jaw Legacy

For more than five decades, the Canadian Forces Snowbirds have called Moose Jaw home, bringing precision flying and Canadian pride to audiences across North America.

Formed in Moose Jaw in 1971 under the leadership of former Canadian Forces Base Moose Jaw Commander Colonel O.B. Philp, the Canadian Forces Snowbirds have grown into one of the world's most respected military aerobatic teams. Flying the legendary CT-114 Tutor aircraft, which served as Canada's primary jet trainer from the 1960s to the early 2000s, the Snowbirds have proudly represented both Moose Jaw and Canada on stages across North America for more than five decades.

The team's reach has extended from performances above the Arctic Circle to appearances as far south as Mexico. Over their distinguished history, the Snowbirds have completed more than 2,880 airshow performances and over 1,000 flypasts. Their precision flying has been showcased at events of international significance, including performances for royalty, the Commonwealth Games, the Olympic Games, Formula One races, and Canada's own Grey Cup.

It is estimated that more than 155 million people have witnessed the Snowbirds in action, experiencing firsthand the Skills, Professionalism, and Teamwork that defines every performance. The team is comprised not only of highly trained pilots, but also of dedicated technicians and support personnel whose behind-the-scenes expertise ensures each display is executed safely and flawlessly.

In 2026, the Snowbirds proudly celebrate their 55th anniversary, marking a milestone that highlights Moose Jaw's enduring connection to one of Canada's most iconic and inspiring air demonstration teams.

Inside the Moose Jaw Museum & Art Gallery— Connecting Art and History

Located in the heart of Crescent Park, the Moose Jaw Museum & Art Gallery brings together the art, history, and experiences that have shaped our community. What started as a small effort to preserve local history has grown into a nationally recognized institution that continues to evolve. Today, it serves as both a cultural anchor and an active gathering place, where residents and visitors can connect with the people, events, and ideas that define the region.

The gallery is now home to more than 7,000 historical artifacts and 3,000 works of art. These are presented through rotating exhibitions across the main gallery, the lobby, and the Moose Jaw Co-op Discovery Centre, alongside hands-on learning spaces that invite people to spend time exploring.

MJMAG maintains an ongoing commitment to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Action. The gallery invites and supports Indigenous Knowledge Holders, Elders, artists, and curators to lead and inform programming. With this approach, the gallery continues to evolve how Indigenous histories and cultural narratives are shared. An Indigenous Advisory Committee helps guide this work and supports the development of policies, including repatriation for collections of living cultural objects. This commitment is reflected not only in what is presented, but in how it is developed and shared with the community.

Recent initiatives include an Indigenous Artist and Curator in Residence program led by Sadi-Rose Vaxvick, which developed a new exhibit in the museum. Môso-tâpiskan: Indigenous Living Heritage shares stories from Treaty 4 nations through living objects, ranging from 8,000-year-old projectile points to detailed beadwork. This work extends beyond the gallery and includes the 2025 repatriation of cultural artifacts to the Kahkewistahaw Cree First Nation, reflecting a commitment that goes beyond exhibition into action and into long-term relationships with communities.

Wakšúpi is one example of how the gallery successfully brings art and heritage together. Curated by Dr. Claire Thomson, it shared Lakota history through historic, beaded living objects. The exhibition ran from September 2023 to September 2024 and was recognized on the Office of the Treaty Commissioner's Treaty 4 Timeline as a significant moment in regional history.

Our summer exhibitions launch on May 22, featuring Odyssey by Alison Norlen, a series of large-scale drawings that explore the objects that make up a home. The season also presents Stilled Lives from the permanent collection, examining historic and contemporary still life, as well as With Pride, a selection presented in partnership with PRISM in support of Pride Month. Together, these exhibitions offer a range of perspectives, from personal and domestic to collective and cultural.

MJMAG's public hours are 12:00 pm to 5:00 pm, Wednesday to Friday; 12:00 pm to 6:00 pm, Saturday; and 1:00 pm to 5:00 pm, Sunday.

Discover Wakamow – Nature Runs Through It

Tucked along the winding banks of the Moose Jaw River, Wakamow Valley is a place where nature, history, and community come together. Just minutes from downtown, this expansive urban park offers a refreshing escape from the everyday, inviting visitors to slow down and explore one of Moose Jaw’s most cherished landscapes.

Spanning more than 500 acres, Wakamow Valley is a haven for outdoor enthusiasts in every season. Scenic walking and cycling trails weave through the valley, offering peaceful river views, shady tree-lined paths, and plenty of spots to stop and take it all in. In the warmer months, it's the perfect place for a picnic, a paddle on the water, or a relaxed afternoon of birdwatching. Come winter, the valley transforms into a quiet wonderland, ideal for cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, or simply enjoying the crisp prairie air.

But Wakamow Valley is more than just a beautiful green space, it's a place rich with stories. The valley has long been a gathering place, with deep connections to Indigenous history and the early days of settlement in the region. Today, that sense of community continues through local events, interpretive sites, and the ongoing efforts to preserve and celebrate this natural treasure.

Families will find plenty to love here, from playgrounds and open green spaces to accessible trails that make it easy for visitors of all ages and abilities to explore. Whether you're looking for an active adventure or a quiet moment surrounded by nature, Wakamow Valley offers something for everyone.

No visit to Moose Jaw is complete without experiencing Wakamow Valley, a place where the city's natural beauty truly shines.

Holiday Traditions— The Season Comes Early

In Moose Jaw, the holiday spirit arrives well before December. Early in the season, the city comes alive with lights, festivities, and traditions, creating a cheerful atmosphere that lasts through the new year.

The holiday fun begins with Christmas in October. Downtown shops fill with festive displays and stay open late, inviting people to get into the spirit early. For many, it's become a beloved tradition and the perfect way to start the season.

The annual Santa Claus Parade, organized by the Moose Jaw Kinsmen Club, brings the community together along Main Street. Floats, lights, and familiar faces line the route, wrapping with the lighting of the community Christmas tree.

In Wakamow Valley, the Valley of Lights features stunning displays and themed sections to explore by car or on foot.
